The EducatorPlus System can support PBIS initiatives in several ways, especially for students with disabilities. EducatorPlus can print large, clear graphics including visual schedules and routines, goal trackers, and social-emotional learning materials. Visual aides are critical in the special education classroom. EducatorPlus not only helps educators create these displays, but also helps them customize classroom visuals to fit their specific needs.

The EducatorPlus System is compatible with PosterArtist, a user-friendly graphic design software. Students can use this software to design their own classroom visuals. This not only promotes ownership of the space, but also teaches valuable technology skills. Poster design is also easily connected to a wide variety of academic content areas.

Postsecondary transition looks different for every learner, but the EducatorPlus system can print a variety of visuals to support this process. This could include guides for specific skills, routines, and locations. EducatorPlus makes it easy to customize visual aides to fit the specific needs of each student's transition.

The EducatorPlus System can create a wide range of educational posters and displays. Our system also comes with education-specific template libraries that include materials across several content areas. Templates are available in multiple languages and are customizable. EducatorPlus can also print window clings, stickers, magnets, floor decals, and more.
